

Chedid Re Wins the 2015 Reinsurance Broker of the Year Award

Chedid Re, the regional leader in reinsurance brokerage industry, stands out yet again with another exceptional milestone. After having previously won the “2013 Reinsurance Brokerage of the Year” award at the Insurex, the Lebanese reinsurance broker has been named “Broker of the Year” during the second edition of the Middle East Insurance Industry Awards (MIIA), held on 17 November at the Conrad Hotel in Dubai.

Nominating 48 international finalists, the Awards ceremony was held to recognize and salute excellence in the insurance industry, covering around 16 different categories. The event was marked by the presence of reinsurers, insurers, brokers, lawyers, and consultants from regional and international markets who were brought together to discuss key trends in the field.

The annual Awards organized by the Middle East Insurance Review (MEIR) highlight superior performances of insurance companies from across the region; providing a platform for furthering excellence and boosting professionalism and higher standards in the market through recognizing the region’s leading sector players.

Receiving the award from a distinguished panel of regional and international judges, Chedid Re Executive Director, Mr. Joseph Faddoul, said: “I would firstly like to thank the whole team at Chedid Re, without whom this award would not have been possible. We’re honored to be awarded by The Middle East Insurance Industry Awards in this major category; this recognition further solidifies Chedid Re as a market leader in the reinsurance industry and is another validation of the progress our company has made since its establishment”.
